

Prepared Mind Tactics

Required Items for Range Day

1. Firearm/s (specific to course of training) and must be in safe functioning order.
2. Minimum quantity of rounds of range ammunition, specific amount to be listed on training announcement. All PMT classes require a min of 50 rounds, tactical courses req 150 or more.
3. Safety glasses (if you wear prescription glasses contact your optician to determine if your current glasses have ballistic lenses) you glasses may meet this standard, but you're responsible to ensure this.
4. Hearing protection, those forms of hearing protection specifically designed for shooting sports are recommended.
5. Brimmed hats are highly recommended as this helps prevent shell casings from going in your face or in a shirt. Baseball style hats work best with muff style hearing protection, but full brimmed hats work also.
6. Adequate reload method for type of weapon you're training with, semi auto owners should bring min of 2 magazines and revolver owners should bring a min of 2 speed loaders or moon clips. Tactical courses require min of 3 each with 4 or more recommended.
7. Weather appropriate clothing, once a class is scheduled training will commence regardless of weather. Severe weather cancelations will occur at instructor discretion only.
8. Any item/s specifically listed on the training announcement.
9. A positive attitude and open mind ready to learn and be engaged in training.
10. Recommended but not required:
 - Water, Gatorade, or other non-alcoholic beverage of choice
 - Snacks, sandwiches, and other food items (light fare)
 - Sunscreen
 - Bug repellent
 - Comfortable shoes and clothing; this training will be conducted outside so choose your clothing accordingly
 - Some of the training locations used have no bathroom facility and the nearest is not close, so bring what you may need to utilize nature.
 - Waterless instant hand sanitizer

- Lawn chair or other outdoor capable seating
- Pens, pencils, and or notepad for notes
